

New Frontiers In Cosmetic Medicine Symposium
November 17-18, 2018
Hasbrouck Heights, NJ

Program Description

This unique one and half day meeting will deal with the latest developments in cosmetic dermatology, cosmetic medicine and anti-aging medicine. This is a highly focused forum, featuring innovative didactic sessions, geared to all physicians interested in adding and expanding these facets of their practice.

Target Audience

This symposium is designed for an audience of physicians, physician assistants, nurses and nurse practitioners who work under the direct supervision of dermatologists, facial plastic surgeons, oculoplastic surgeons, and plastic surgeons, and commonly assist with cosmetic surgery and medicine.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Identify emerging trends in cosmetic medicine
- Analyze available energy based device treatments for acne, rosacea, and psoriasis
- Analyze available laser and light technologies for skin resurfacing, treatment of scars, pigmented lesions, tattoos and other dermatologic conditions
- Compare and contrast available options for non-invasive body contouring
- Discuss application for various neurotoxins, dermal fillers, surgical and minimally invasive treatments
- Discuss therapy options for treating patients with hair loss based on clinical presentations
- Compare and contrast treatment approaches for female vaginal rejuvenation
- Review marketing and management strategies for running an aesthetic practice
- Review the best treatments for an individual patient's goals and how-to present during the consultation
- Discuss strategies for preventing or resolving legal issues in cosmetic medicine

Criteria for Success

Statements of credit will be awarded based on the participant's attendance and submission of the activity evaluation form. A statement of credit will be available upon completion of an online evaluation/claimed credit form at www.cosmeticfrontiers.com/cme. You must participate in the entire activity to receive credit.
